

ISL-Certified On-line Course on ISO-9001:2015 – An In-depth Understanding

Successful implementation of new requirements introduced in ISO-9001:2015 requires paradigm shift in the implementation of Quality Management System (QMS). Specially, the blending of two powerful concepts Risk-based Thinking (RBT) and process approach in implementing Quality Management System (QMS) is the challenge. Further, creating awareness among the employees about the application of Risk-based Thinking (RBT) and in-depth knowledge among the people responsible for implementation is a massive job.

The first step in planning for transition to the new ISO-9001:2015 from the old ISO-9001:2008 is to create In-depth Understanding of the new ISO-9001:2015 for the people responsible for implementation of the Quality Management Systems (QMS) and Internal Auditors.
